New Wholesale Distributor for Cateye and Hudson Fitness in Canada
National Fitness Products of Canada, Inc.

(August 13, 2007) (Dallas, TX) --- Source Distributors, Inc., a manufacturer of physical rehabilitation and fitness products has announced a distribution agreement for the entirety of Canada between the company and National Fitness Products of Canada, Inc. The product lines covered by the agreement are Cateye Fitness, GameBike, GamePad and Hudson Fitness Products.

This agreement gives National Fitness Products of Canada the exclusive right to distribute these Source Brands' products throughout the country. The company will sell directly and through authorized re-sellers.

In announcing the relationship between the companies, Jim Stone, president of Source Distributors, Inc. noted, "We have been evaluating potential distributors for our products in the Canadian market for some time and the decision was tough because there are several excellent distribution organizations in the country. We chose National Fitness Products of Canada, Inc. because of their extensive dealership network, their understanding of the rehabilitation and fitness markets and their passion for customer service."

The Cateye, GameBike, GamePad and Hudson Fitness products are used by physical therapists, cardiologists, schools, institutions, fitness facilities and for in-home use. Boasting innovative design and economical prices, the products are considered both highly functional and cost effective.

Andre Leitert, of National Fitness Products of Canada, Inc. said, "We are extremely pleased to add these product lines to our existing business. The Cateye, GameBike, GamePad and Hudson Fitness products are a great addition for us. These lines complement rather than compete with our existing lines."
